first class experience on the edge of Hobart's picturesque waterfront

The Henry Jones Art Hotel

Hobart, Tasmania

The Henry Jones Art Hotel is Australia's first dedicated art hotel. With an ingenious mix of contemporary design elements, traditional building structures and artworks throughout, the architecturally designed hotel is, in itself, a work of art.

Built where Hobart was first settled 200 years ago, a row of historic 1820s warehouses and a former IXL jam factory have been sensitively transformed into an enthralling and luxurious, first class experience on the edge of Hobart's picturesque waterfront.

The hotel's 56 individually designed rooms and suites reflect Henry Jones' characteristic fusion of art, heritage, tradition and nature. Sleek modernity complements untouched heritage features, nineteenth century sandstone walls frame contemporary artworks, and original windows reveal views of Hobart's harbour, city and mountains.

The Henry Jones Art Hotel features:

- Henry Jones Design Art Studio
- Henry's Restaurant
- IXL Long Bar
- Jam Packed Café
- Gymnasium
- Free Wi-Fi
