- Swim with Australian sea lions

What kind of man creates a most outstanding shark cage diving adventure, after being attacked by a Great White shark? Rodney Fox.

Rodney has dedicated some 50 years of his life, to understand these magnificent creatures and now with his son, Andrew offers a Great White adventure of a lifetime.

Travel out through the sheltered waters and islands of the Spencer Gulf and Thorny Passage from Port Lincoln, for the ultimate shark expedition aboard the comfortable and spacious 23 metre Princess II.

Stop along the way at Hopkins Island for the opportunity to swim with extremely cute and photogenic Australian sea lions. Once on location at the beautiful Neptune Islands, look out for the sharks and start the cage diving then enjoy an exclusive island walk to visit the fur seals.

Anyone can participate in the regular surface cage diving simply by breathing air from a surface fed air supply. Here the cage floats right at the water surface and is fixed directly to the boat with full instruction given by the qualified dive masters on board. Alternatively, stay dry and watch the action from the boat.

Guest are encouraged to enter and exit the cages at leisure. For qualified scuba divers enjoy the world exclusive ocean floor cage! Each dive has a dive master crew in the cage to safely escort you and your cage buddies. Here you can experience Great White sharks face to face and above you.

Relax in the evenings with quality local food and wine enjoying sunsets and swapping stories. Also find out more about Great White sharks and the current research findings with the onboard shark photographic talk.
