

Arkaba Station

Rugged peaks, starry skies, desert tracks and rich red earth – see the best of Australia all in one place. South Australia offers a glimpse at more than 130 million years of history, from a lost world inside a giant crater at Wilpena Pound to Aboriginal culture, underground cities and outback stations. Get back to nature with a swim with sea lions, tuna or shark diving at Port Lincoln or stroll among the sea lions at Kangaroo Island. Inland, the Flinders Ranges and Outback provide a dramatic departure from the city, yet they're so easily accessible.

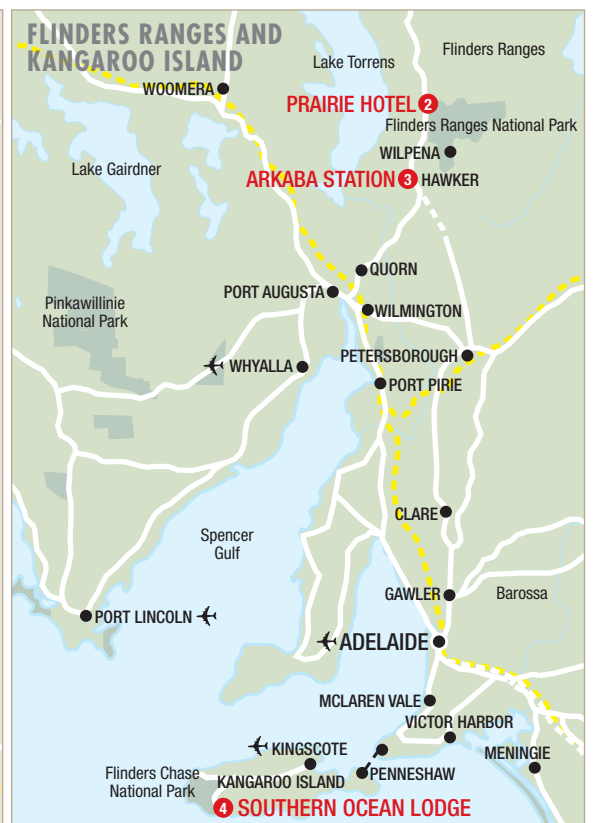

Flinders Ranges and Outback

A world of dramatic mountains, forests, caves and gorges is waiting to be explored in the Flinders Ranges. See it all in spectacular fashion on a scenic flight over the towering rock walls, gorges and Aboriginal rock art of Wilpena Pound. Go hiking and spot wildlife among one of the oldest mountain ranges on earth. After a day's exploration, seek out the quintessential Australian scene at a working sheep station like Arkaba Station. Or join those in the know who head to the Prairie Hotel for native cuisine, otherwise known as 'Flinders Feral Food'.

Lose yourself in the awesome landscapes of outback South Australia. Friendly characters welcome you to their unique part of the world, with its red dirt and wide open spaces serving up the perfect mix of quirky sights and outback hospitality. There's nowhere quite like Coober Pedy. With half the town living underground to escape the summer heat, it's the biggest subterranean town in Australia. There's an underground art gallery and even an underground church. Stay in the underground Desert Cave Hotel for the full Coober Pedy experience. Head out to marvel at some unique outback scenes like The Breakaways, a striking rocky landscape with spectacular views. Take in the amazing colours at sunset. See the vivid colours of the Painted Desert and the lunar-like landscape of Moon Plain.

Kangaroo Island

For equally spectacular scenery and wildlife around every corner, you'll find it all on Kangaroo Island. Known as the 'zoo without fences', expect to see things you'd never come across in the wild. Walk amongst amazing rock formations, meet the local sea lions on the beach or look out to the Southern Ocean as far as the eye can see.

Arkaba Station, Flinders Ranges

Via Hawker, Flinders Ranges

The Flinders Ranges are one of Australia's most ancient landscapes, moulded by hundreds of millions of years of geological activity and home to spectacular outback scenery. Arkaba is a 60,000 acre sheep station, providing a quintessential Australian scene, while the geological amphitheatre of Wilpena Pound lies on the northern boundary of the property. The 1850s homestead offers guests a taste of classic Australian country hospitality. For bush walking, photography, Aboriginal rock art or just soaking up the sights and sounds of the bush, the Flinders Ranges is in a class of its own.

Shark Diving Expeditions

HIGHLIGHTS:

- Up close encounters with Great White sharks
- Surface cage diving available for non certified divers
- World exclusive ocean floor diving for certified divers
- Island shore excursions on tender boat
- Small group tours with maximum of 12 passengers
- Special talks on Great White shark biology and research
- Most expeditions hosted by Andrew and/or Rodney Fox

Travel out through the sheltered gulf waters and islands of the Spencer Gulf and Thorny Passage from Port Lincoln, for the ultimate shark expedition aboard the comfortable and spacious 23 metre 'Princess II'.

Departing Port Lincoln, stop along the way to the Neptune Islands for the opportunity to swim with extremely cute and photogenic Australian sea lions. Once on location at the Neptunes, watch out for the sharks and start the cage diving.

Non certified divers can participate in the regular surface cage dives simply by breathing air from a 'hookah line', a surface fed air supply. Here the cage floats right at the water surface and is fixed directly to the boat with full instruction given by the dive masters on board.

Divers are encouraged to enter and exit the cages at leisure and each ocean floor dive has a dive master crew in the cage to safely escort you and your cage buddies. Here you can experience Great White sharks face to face in their domain and experience the local sea life, the world's largest sting-rays, southern eagle rays, southern blue groper and many other endemic fish species.

There is plenty of time to relax, or just enjoy the shark action topside. Activities revolve around the shark activity, meal times and special talks. Evenings are free to stargaze, view the day's video and pictures or just some storytelling.

The Princess II features warm freshwater showers, a spacious saloon and a tender boat for touring around the islands.

INCLUDES:

- 3 or 4 nights on board accommodation with private facilities
- Local experienced and qualified crew
- Three shark viewing cages
- Great White shark biology and research talks
- All meals and soft drinks whilst on board
- Licensed bar on board (alcoholic drinks own expense)
